 WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1888

We clip the following from the Record-Union: Corporal Tanner says: "This is to be a clean campaign, with personalities eliminated and scandal an unknown quantity." Let us hope that he is prophetic. It will be a clean campaign if the self-respecting journals of the land so decree it. With them the whole matter rests—as for the scurrilous sheets, they can be left to the mercies of a discriminating public. Let the publishers of the daily papers that claim to be exponents of public thought and run fair, open-handed, square-dealing newspapers resolve that their columns shall not be made sewer-pipes for the carriage of "they says," "rumors" and other scandalous matters that Satan malignity conjures up in these periodical political revolutions, to gratify the vulgar taste and to poison the general mind against candidates. It is not so much men in these contests as it is what is behind and underlying them; their frailties are not in issue, nor yet their surpassing virtues, but the principles for which they stand, the following they command, the thought they represent. The campaign personal assaults against lives that have for long years commanded respect and have gone unscathed through much public service, may, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, be set down as malicious fabrications, and the weapon of cowardice and malignity. If against all such the decent press peremptorily closes its columns, there will be found no avenues for their transmission that will command any considerable public hearing. It comes to this, then, that if we do not have a clean campaign in 1888, free from scurrilous and assaults upon character, the press will be chargeable with the failure.

It is most gratifying to learn that the Pacific Coast delegation have decided to combine for the purpose of securing a strong silver plank in the Republican platform at Chicago. Composed of eminent men as the delegation, when reinforced by the great silver champions, Jones and Stewart, they will enable them to accomplish their end. With the voice from Oregon, and the arguments of our clear-headed representatives, which will command the respect of the intelligent East, will insure such a silver plank as the interest all west of the Rocky Mountains demand. The gold bugs that have been controlling Cleveland and through him dictated the non-silver plank of the Democratic platform will have no hearing with the earnest coast element that will not only demand, but secure that which will serve our best personal interest and the welfare of the nation.

The Presidential boomers are hard at work in Chicago. Each candidate has his workers on the ground. Sherman, unless there is a great change, will go into the convention with the greatest number of delegates; but it is not he who is the fleetest at first that always wins the race. The home stretch decides the winner always. The probabilities are that those who take the field as against Sherman will carry away the stakes. Who the winning man will be is past finding at present. One thing is quite certain, that he will be a man not handicapped, and will be placed on a platform that will be most acceptable to Americanized Americans, who believe in protecting their homes, the rising generation and generations to come from one and all of the abuses that history has shown necessarily follows in the wake of free trade.

The Irish-Americans' Anti-Free Trade League held their first meeting in New York City recently, at which Judge A. L. Monson said the badges worn in St. Louis were made in England months before the convention and bore the stamp of Thomas Stevens, Cambridge, England. "Why not?" shouted some one; "sure it was consistent." One of those badges bore the face of the lady at the White House under the words "Queen of sixty millions of people." The wearing of foreign made badges is fully in accord with the general spirit of the Democratic platform. It not only says to the Irish-Americans, but to sixty millions of Americans, that if we can carry out our policy, we will not only put English cheap labor, but the cheap labor of the world against your well earned American labor.

The fact that no Vice President who was sixty years old when elected survived his term of office does not appear to have any terrors for the aged Thurman. Evidently he takes consolation in the fact that there is no danger of his being cut off before he has numbered the years allotted him.

It would be almost a miracle should the gallant Phil have the generalship to overcome the complications that so nearly took him to the grave. It would be as valuable as his famed ride to Winchester.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE.

"Never Touch a Card or Gamble in any Shape."
 On the 10th instant the remains of a man that proved to be Harry Weiss were found in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. Investigation proved that he suicided for the reason his mania for gambling had caused him to become penniless, and he could not bear to face his wife and family in that condition. The letter found on him, addressed to his son, has a lesson in it, and is not only worthy of reading, but of the gravest consideration by young men, especially those who are yet in their teens.

A PATHETIC LETTER.

One of the letters, dated Palace Hotel, May 25, 1888, ran as follows:
 My dearest Son, Sidney: I once wrote a letter to you, but who has it? I don't know. I lost it, and the time I wrote the same I came very nearly taking my life; but you, my dear boy, and your dear sister and your dear mother and my dear wife, kept me from doing so. My passion for gambling I could not resist and I ran myself in debt. The salary I was making would have done us very nicely, but my desire for playing made my life miserable, and I lost not only all my money last year, but my position as well. I swore I would never play again, but the temptation on the road was something I could not resist. Always being short of money, I tried to make up for some of my losses, but luck was against me and I continued to lose more and more every day.

The idea of going back to you without a dollar, and probably without a job, seemed repulsive to me, and I dare not look at your lovely faces again. I love you, my dear children, and your dear mother, as well as ever a father loved his family; but my gambling lost me all on earth, and I hope to God, when you ever live to be old enough to realize this letter, take care of dear mother and your dear little sisters and make up for your father's folly.
 Your mother, my wife, is as noble a woman as ever bore a child, but I am the only one to blame for all this trouble. I ask you as a favor to your dear father never touch a card or gamble in any shape, as it ruined me, and I want any man who follows it, to hope your grandfather, while he lives, will take good care of you all. I leave a little life insurance money, and I hope he will use it for you.
 Remember, my dear Sidney, do not play a card, and take care of your dear mother and little sisters. My wrongs you will right, I trust, and I think you will love you all, I remain your ever loving father,
 H. WEISS.

P. S.—Good night, my God bless you all. Your dear mother is one of the noblest women I ever lived, and I hope you will be obedient to her for me.
 On the reverse side of the letter, dated June 5th, among other things he wrote: "Now, my dear boy, please remember what I have asked of you. Never gamble!"

A Timely Warning.

The Secretary of the Pacific Insurance Union has sent out a circular to insurance agents from which the following extracts are made:
 The recurring anniversary of our National Independence makes it necessary for us to again remind the agents of fire insurance companies, as well as the general public, of the great danger which will always attend the use of fire-crackers and fireworks, and of the imperative importance of adopting precautionary measures to prevent fires in all places where the use of these dangerous explosives is permitted.
 We call upon agents in the cities and towns immediately to take steps to ascertain by actual trial that their fire departments, fire engines, hose and water supply are in condition for prompt and effective use. Petitions should be presented to the proper authorities, to rigidly enforce existing regulations on the subject, and, where necessary, adopt such additional safeguards and precautions as will likely to prove most effective in averting peril to insurance capital, and needless destruction of property.
 "The citizens at large should be requested to have hose attached to faucets on their own premises, as well as barrels and buckets filled with water, in readiness to extinguish incipient fires. If the latter precaution is taken by every household or storekeeper, the danger of serious fire will be greatly lessened."

Connect With the Sewers.

During the past year the net little sum of about fifteen thousand dollars has been expended for a general sewerage system. The main portion of Reno has been well and intelligently sewered. This expenditure of money will be of little avail unless the system sewers the end intended, that of purifying the town and carry off the filth that heretofore has been more or less a breeder of disease. To accomplish the purpose of their construction the sewers must be well laid out, require those living adjacent to these highways for filth to connect with them. The hot weather will soon be here and no time should be lost in making these connections and in discharging old vaults and cesspools. By so doing not only a life but lives may be saved.

A Japanese Visitor.

A Japanese mining king will soon visit the Comstock. It is claimed that he has sixteen gold, silver and copper mines in Japan, in one of which he is reported to have employed 20,000 men. His little fortune is estimated at $75,000,000. He is on a tour of inspection, with a view of seeing and getting the best machinery for the reduction of ore. Messrs. Mackay and Fair will give him the freedom of the Comstock. He will visit most of the leading mining localities in this country, east and west.

Logan Inevitably Indorse Alger.

BALTIMORE, June 13.—Delegates from various counties of Maryland and all wards of Baltimore, representing sections of the Logan Inevitably, met in this city to night and indorsed the Presidential aspirations of General Russell A. Alger of Michigan, and suggested Hon. Levi P. Morton of New York for Vice-President.

OVER THE WIRES.

Blaine and Sherman the Favorites

For the Republican Nomination for President.

Stewart's Silver Amendment—Idian Improving—Swift III—Tariff Debate—Etc.

BLAINE AND SHERMAN.

The Friends of Both Confident of Their Nomination.

New York, June 12.—The World prints a special said to be open authority that William Reid has written to Governor Foraker the assurance that Blaine will not refuse if nominated. The special gives a private letter from Blaine to Reid in his letter to the statement. Reid in his letter asks Foraker to accept the second place on the ticket, and declares that it will be easy to manage a stampede for Blaine in the convention.
 Foraker himself is said to cherish a hope of getting first place on the ticket.

A prominent Republican of New York says that a committee of leading Republicans is at work organizing a Blaine movement and endeavoring to induce Sherman and other possible candidates to withdraw from the contest. The committee represents Blaine as the most popular man in the party, and that he will accept if offered the nomination unanimously. They further say that Blaine's following in the Convention will be their favorite, and that the Convention will be prolonged indefinitely unless he is nominated.

Chicago, June 12.—The advance cohorts of the Sherman boomers are here and hard at work. The News Washington special proclaims the confidence of the Sherman boomers. Sherman headquarters will be opened here tomorrow. Sherman and Jones, Thompson, manager of the Sherman boom, together with several politicians, held a conference yesterday in the rooms of the National Capitol.
 New York, June 12.—A dispatch from Springfield, O., says that while the Ohio delegation is instructed for Sherman the great question is will it hold out. The dispatch adds: "Right here in Springfield a movement has been started with an ugly look on its face for Sherman. It has taken the form of an attempt to revive the almost defunct Blaine boom."

Maine Republicans.

PORTLAND, June 13.—The Republican Convention met here yesterday to nominate a candidate for Governor. The leading candidates are ex-Governor Barlow, and Governor Marble for renomination. The total number of delegates is 1,415, and two thirds are necessary for a choice.
 At 11 o'clock the Convention was packed. Chairman Manley called the Convention to order. After prayer Hon. Andrew Wiswell, Temporary Chairman, delivered the opening address. His speech was devoted to criticizing the action of the President on Civil Service Reform, his failure to meet the fishery question and his free trade message. He said the people have had enough of the three years with its blunders, and they now want a President who will protect American citizens, and that man was James B. Blaine, but the Republicans of Maine would follow the leadership of the Chicago nominees. Allusion to Blaine were enthusiastically applauded.

Burial of an Old Railroad Employee.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—Davis B. Barry, father of Romeo Barry, pioneer of the Altas, was buried last Sunday in the City Cemetery. The funeral took place from his late home at Washington. The remains were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of people, included among who were on foot about fifty of the decorated ex-soldiers of the Civil War, and a railroad car repair shop. Of the many floral pieces placed on the grave was one, the offering of the railroad workmen under foreman Phil Douglas. This piece was in the shape of a wreath, on which the deceased was constantly employed. The offering was over four feet in length, and to height three feet to the top of the casket, and weighed about two hundred pounds. The piece was an exact representation of the car. Barry was one of the oldest employees of the Southern Pacific Company.

A Gala Day for Portland, Oregon.

PORTLAND, June 13.—Friday, June 15, will be a red letter day in the history of Portland, and steps are being taken to declare it a public holiday. On that day will be laid the corner stone of the mammoth Exposition Building of the North Pacific Industrial Fair Association. The purchase of the Villard block will be consummated and the new half million hotel enterprise fully inaugurated. The Pioneer Association of Oregon will hold its annual reunion, and the Indian war veterans will hold their annual meeting. The corner stone will be laid by the Grand Lodge of Masons, which meets here on the 14th, with appropriate ceremonies.

The Pacific Delegation at Ogden.

OGDEN, June 13.—The California and Nevada delegations caucused yesterday and decided to combine the Pacific Coast States and Territories to get a strong silver plank. They also expect to get the delegations of Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin and other States for the same object, and expect to have one hundred votes.
 Everything is harmonious. The trip is a grand ovation—bonfires, guns and brass bands everywhere. This is the finest train that ever crossed the continent. No presidential preferences are expressed.

Sons of Veterans in Camp.

SAN JOSE, June 13.—California Division, Sons of Veterans, are now holding an encampment in this city. Yesterday they elected officers. Last evening a reception and banquet was tendered them by the local organization. There are thirteen camps in the State, most of which are represented at this encampment.

POLITICAL BOOMS.

Great Activity Beginning to Manifest Itself.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The lieutenants of several candidates are hard at work and are sparing no pains to put the favorites forward. J. S. Clarkson, for Allison, is very hopeful. Chas. Griffin, who looks after Harrison's interests, looks Thurman's nomination has helped Harrison's chances. He says the people of Indiana are not opposed to Gresham, but they prefer Harrison. W. S. Coppelan is running the Sherman boom and does not seem to think Honest John's chances have diminished of late.

Decker and Hopkins are working for Alger and hope to win over some of the Gresham votes, especially among the old friends of Logan. Strong work is also being done for Dapew, who has many ardent admirers here. It is yet impossible to make any estimate of the strength of the respective candidates and nothing definite can be said for several days to come.

Senator Stewart's Silver Amendment.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Stewart yesterday gave notice that at the proper time he would move to amend the Legislative Appropriation bill by the insertion of two amendments. The first one provides that when any national bank shall surrender any part of its circulation, and an equivalent amount is not taken by other national banks within thirty days, that the Secretary of the Treasury shall buy an equivalent amount in silver bullion in excess of the minimum of two million dollars per month and coin the same into standard silver dollars. The second amendment proposed to make the minimum of silver coinage $4,000,000 per month.

A Prize-Fight.

PITTSBURG, June 12.—A prize-fight took place last night in a private room in this city, between Mike Colburn and Jack Hanlon of New York. The contest was under Marquis of Queensberry rules, with small gloves. When the men stepped into the ring Colburn weighed 139 pounds and Hanlon, 138 pounds. The fighting was terrific in the first two rounds, and Colburn had decidedly the best of it, but in the third round Hanlon dealt him a powerful blow on the jaw, knocking him senseless. He was picked up, and it was fully four minutes before he recovered consciousness. The fight and stakes were then awarded to Hanlon. The mill was for $200 a side and receipts.

The Chief Justiceship.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senators Fawcett of Illinois and Mitchell of Oregon, both Republicans, have recently asserted that they will vote with the Democrats to confirm Fuller as Chief Justice. Mr. Fuller, with the aid of these two Senators and the strength of the Democrats will receive a bare majority and secure his confirmation. It is probable that at the next executive session Mr. Vest will move that the Judiciary Committee be discharged from further consideration of the case, and if the required number of votes can be secured for this purpose, Mr. Fuller's confirmation will immediately follow.

California's Free Traders.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Messrs. Biggs and Thompson of California have lately put themselves squarely on record in regard to free trade. An amendment was offered to the Mills bill touching lumber to the effect that all lumber manufactured by Chinese should be subject to duty. The object of this was to shut out the great amount of lumber from British Columbia, but Biggs and Thompson both voted against it, each being determined to have free lumber or nothing.

No Change in Sheridan's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—There is no change in General Sheridan's condition. His pulse is 101 to 106 and of fair volume and tension. He coughs very little and his respiration is irregular. He takes nourishment without indication of effort, and is gradually assimilating. There will not be another bulletin issued until tomorrow morning. The General has not been informed of the death of his mother.

A Young Rascal Starts a Million-Dollar Fire.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 13.—A boy named Andrew Howard, aged 14, has confessed that he started the million dollar fire which destroyed the dry goods store of the Carson, Newman & Co. He said he started the fire because he was mad at Starring, a floor walker, who would not excuse him to go to a funeral at which he was to be a pallbearer.

The Tariff Debate.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee have notified the Republicans that they will not agree to suspend the Tariff debate during the Chicago Convention unless the Republicans shall come to an agreement as to the definite close of the five minutes' debate. The Republican leaders replied that the proposition suited them, and that they are now trying to arrange what the Tariff side as to the date for the termination of the debate on the Mills bill.

John F. Swift Seriously Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—John F. Swift, delegate at large to the Republican National Convention, is lying sick here with malarial fever. Swift's ailment, N. W. Spaulding, of Oakland, states that he will be unable to attend the convention on account of business. The Executive Committee of the State Central Committee have authority to fill the vacancy.

No water remedy can be had for Coughs and Colds or any trouble of the Throat, then "Brown's Bronchial Trochoc." Price 25 cents. Sold only in boxes.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS

The following platform and resolutions were adopted by the Republican State Convention, which convened at Winnemucca on the 15th instant:
 The Republicans of the State of Nevada, in Convention assembled, again express their loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, which have made this country so great and prosperous during the last quarter of a century.

Resolved, That the question of a sufficient supply of circulating medium to maintain a permanent range of the price of labor and property is the most important political question awaiting solution by the American people.

That a diminishing quantity of money reduces the price of labor and property, enriches the creditor, impoverishes the debtor, and paralyzes industry and enterprise.

That the present financial system of the United States, which increases or diminishes the circulating medium at the pleasure of the manipulators of the national banks, without regard to the interests of the people, and places in the hands of the Treasury Department all the revenue of the Government to be expended at the will of the Government, is a system of oppression, and is a violation of the rights of the people, and is a menace to the stability of the Republic.

That a financial policy whereby both gold and silver shall form the basis of circulation, whether the money used by the people be coin, or coin certificates redeemable in coin, or both, as convenience may require, is imperatively demanded.

That the attempt to substitute national bank notes, costing the Government millions of dollars annually, for free silver, costing nothing, is an outrage upon the people; that the money ring or trust, which has usurped the sovereign power of the Government to issue money, and which has fraudulently monopolized the revenue of the Government for the purpose of private speculation, shocks the moral sense of the people and destroys respect for the laws and law. We demand that the ring or trust be destroyed, and equal rights be restored to all the people.

We charge that President Cleveland is the willing tool or agent of a powerful money ring, which caters to the interests of the Government, makes war

JOTTINGS.

The Pioneer Hotel is the place to get a good meal or a good bed for 25 cents, and don't you forget it.

The prohibitionists who never use liquor for any other than medicinal purpose, purchase Thistle Dew of Pinaiger, the druggist.

Temperance men feel bad when they lunch at J. J. Becker's and are forced to forego the pleasure afforded by one of his schooners of beer.

It is the counterfeiter who pays a man in his own coin. Brookings don't do that; he takes your coin and gives the worth of your money.

If you want a fine merchant or amber cigar holder, cigarette holder, merchant holder, or in fact anything in the smokers' line, call at Thurston's.

Thurston's store has many attractions in it. A full line of goods is always in stock that is practical and most needed, together with many luxuries.

No one knows what a day may bring forth, nor what W. M. Haveron has for his customers without seeing, except his staple articles, of which he carries a general supply, and everybody knows the fact.

E. W. Crutcher has for sale ten or eleven head of fine Galloway cattle. They are now at Lake's old ranch. Parties desiring to purchase can be informed as to price, pedigree and every other thing a purchaser should desire to know by applying to George Douglass on the premises. He has also a carload at the Sisk of Carson, which he also desires to sell. Some of these cattle are in first-class condition.

Opera House Saloon.

This evening John Richardson will throw open the doors of his elegant saloon in the McKisick Opera House block, on Plaza street. No pains has been spared in fitting this up, and it is beyond question the largest and finest room of the kind in the city. The saloon is a parallelogram, 25x100 feet, with unbroken walls and ceiling, in pure white. The floor and wainscoting is in narrow strips of pine and redwood, in natural colors, oiled and polished in rich lustre and bright as the kitchen floor of the old farm house at home. The fittings are all in excellent taste, and John extends an old-fashioned welcome to all his friends.

Stolen.

B. F. Leete had a bright bay horse stolen from his pasture field last night. The thief was not content with taking the horse, but appropriated Leete's overcoat and a pair of overalls.

Do not take quinine for malarial disorder. Ayer's Cough Syrup contains a more powerful and effective remedy. The preparation is taken strictly in accordance with directions, is warranted to cure all malarial diseases.

PERSONAL.

J. D. Kersy, Assessor of Ormsby county, was in town last night.

R. L. Fulton and wife returned from Virginia City on last evening's train.

J. O. Gregory of Wadsworth is in town. He has just returned from an extended visit to Missouri.

Pat Reddy came up on the delayed train and left for the south on the Virginia & Truckee road.

John S. Gregory, the popular whiskey drummer representing Crane, Haslings & Co., is in town.

Miss Maggie Gordon, of Carson, came down last night to attend the opening of McKisick's Opera House.

Dave Evans, an old time Comstocker, was a passenger last night for Portland, Oregon, to visit a brother.

Lem Allen is up from Churchill county. He reports the grain and alfalfa as looking most promising, and that the latter is being harvested.

Captain P. J. Dunne, United States Deputy Revenue Collector, and brother came down from Virginia last night. The Captain went to Humboldt county on official business.

Chris Kleingler, formerly of the Post Keller and Progress saloons of San Francisco, has come to Reno to take charge of J. B. Francis' saloon, which will soon open on the McFarlin corner.

Will be at Lake Tahoe.

The Nevada City (Cal.) Transcript says: On Saturday, July 22, the members of Company C, N. G. C., under command of Capt. Niheil, will leave this city for Lake Tahoe. On the banks of that beautiful body of water they will hold a five or six days' encampment. It will take them three days to reach the lake, which is fifty miles distant. They will go on foot, taking the Bear Valley route. Wagons will be taken to transport their equipment, camping paraphernalia, etc. Tents will be obtained from headquarters at Sacramento. The regimental officers will be invited to join the company on the trip. The intention is to stop over part of a day and one night at Truckee on the way up, where a ball and exhibition drill will be given.

The expenses of the encampment will approximate $400, and will be paid out of the company treasury, which is in a healthy condition.

The camp will not be conducted under strict military discipline. There will be daily drilling, but no guard duty.

The boys in blue expect to have a great time.

Virginia City Will Celebrate.

Virginia City will celebrate the Fourth. Judging from the report of the Enterprise the meeting held last night was a most enthusiastic one. Various committees were appointed, which will report to the meeting on Friday night next. The treasurer announced as a starter that $200 was left over from last year. During the meeting a telegram was received from Brigadier General Jacques that he and staff and C. C. would visit the Comstock if they celebrated, which was received with hearty cheers. The newspapers of the City were requested by the meeting to say that invitations will be extended to the people of all the towns in this part of the State to participate in the celebration. There is no question about the general citizens of that city having a first-class Fourth, and that a large representation from Reno will be there on that occasion.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral of the late John A. Paxton took place at Headsburg on Sunday last. His widow and eldest son were present at the funeral. Mr. Paxton left an estate estimated at $2,000,000. He was a life member of the Society of California Pioneers, which association has appointed a committee to draft a memorial and resolutions eulogistic of its deceased member, whose loss is deeply deplored by the brotherhood of Argonauts throughout the Golden State.

"Penny Wise and Pound Foolish."

"This is what men are who plod along trying to do their business when they feel half dead. Their eyes are dim and throbs; their head aches; the children annoy them; their wives lose their charms; they lose their ambition; they make mistakes in their accounts; and the whole world looks blue; they have themselves and everyone else. And why? If you feel so, why don't you stop and think a minute—or are you too stupid? Your liver and blood are out of order; that's all. You need a good regulator and tonic. Take a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you will feel like a new man. In three days your wife will be the prettiest and sweetest woman in the world; your children's dispositions will be exactly like your own; your business will improve and you will make money enough to pay for the Golden Medical Discovery a hundred times over. Don't be stubborn, but try it.

If you suffer from cold in the head, or from Nasal Catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cures when everything else fails.

RAMONA.

Fall Dress Rehearsal Last Night.

Last evening the Irving Dramatic Club gave their first full dress rehearsal of "Ramona," and through the courtesy of Manager Bolton and Chas. A. Norcross, Esq., a GAZETTE reporter was accorded the privilege of witnessing it, and inspecting the beautiful scenery, stage setting and rich costumes provided for this presentation of this beautiful drama. As our entire community is on the tip of expectation over this, the dramatic event of Reno's history, it is needless for us to say that the treat which was given was appreciated and enjoyed. It is with some reluctance that we suppress our enthusiasm and defer review until after the opening night, but we betray no confidence when we say that this evening's entertainment will prove a gratifying surprise and treat to everyone. As every seat in the house has been engaged for some days past this event "Like good wine, needs no bush," and all may anticipate an evening of royal enjoyment.

Important Meeting.

The ranchers on the Humboldt, in and about Lovelock's, who have suffered for want of water this season, are taking steps looking toward determining their water rights. To-day they have a meeting to confer with their attorneys, M. S. Bonfield, Judge Bonfield, of Winnemucca, and Judge W. M. Boardman, who was a passenger on the morning train.

If the rights are litigated, it will be the most important suit ever prosecuted in the State, because the question of riparian rights, of appropriation, and of the use of water in all forms, including the right growing out of sloughs, and other rights incident to such a river as the Humboldt.

As the GAZETTE understands the situation, the trouble grows out of the fact that ranchers owning large bodies of land along the head of the stream, and especially in the vicinity of Beowawe, have made large ditches of late and appropriated the water to that extent that thousands and thousands of acres, which were the best producing lands near the mouth of the stream, are now a barren waste.

Indian Killed.

Indian John Pierson, from Lake Tahoe, called at the GAZETTE office this morning and reported a murder at Pyramid Reservation. He said a heavy set Indian, called Willie, from Humboldt county, came to Wadsworth on Monday last and loaded himself up with murderous whisky, and then went to Winnemucca's place, and there got into a row with Johnny Winnemucca. In the fight he cut Johnny's throat and stabbed him in the back, causing almost immediate death. Willie was arrested and is now in the reservation jail. Summary justice will be dealt out next Friday being the day set for his hanging. The boy killed was about twenty-five years old.

Uncle Jake McKisick Serenaded.

Last evening the opera house band wended their way to the residence of C. W. Botton, Esq., and serenaded Uncle Jake McKisick, in celebration of the completion of the McKisick Opera House. Uncle Jake gave the boys a hearty welcome. With him "the latest air" always hangs outside, and as soon as the music entered all were invited in, and in brimming beakers of Rhoderer drank success to the opera house and its liberal owner and his energetic manager. Hearty congratulations were in order and the best of feeling prevailed, while corks were popping to the chorus of "Clink, clink, the glasses, and drink The juice of the joyous vine."

Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam—A powerful cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles. It contains no Opium. Price, 75 cents. Sold by W. P. Pinaiger. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

Mining in Nye County.

The Belmont Courier says: The outlook for increased mining operations in Nye county is good. All mines containing large bodies of low grade concentrating ores can now be worked successfully by concentrators of the pattern used in the Monitor-Belmont mill by J. E. Severance, lessee of the Barcroft mine. Nearly all the ores found in the Belmont mines, below water, are of a concentrating character, and a profitable resumption of work is now possible. Immense quantities of low grade concentrating ores can be taken from the Alexander and Brooklyn mines of Graustville. A concentrator that will successfully work the low grade ores has long been wanted in Nye. Those in operation at the Monitor-Belmont mill are a success, and other mining companies in the county may safely adopt them without fear of failure. They are both simple and cheap.

It Looks Like Business.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State of California of the Salt Lake and Los Angeles Railroad Company, to construct and maintain a railroad of standard gauge to commence at a point at or near Los Angeles, and to run from thence in a general northeasterly direction by the most practicable route through and into the counties of Los Angeles, Kern, Tulare, Inyo and Mono, to the State line, and from thence to Salt Lake through the State of Nevada and Territory of Utah. The directors are Isaac Trumbo, Alexander Badlam, Wm. H. Brown, George Burgess and J. W. Oregon. Capital stock $20,000,000, divided into $100,000 shares, of which 2,500 have been subscribed.

Keep Your Boys in Nights.

In nearly every case boys who bring sorrow and disgrace upon their parents, are those who are allowed to run on the streets at night. With the shades of night around a boy comes the opportunity for bad associates that do not tempt him in the broad light of day. Evil doesn't stalk abroad at noonday, and hence a boy is not apt to come in contact with it with the sun at meridian. Keep your boys off the street at night, or rather safely sheltered in their home nest, where evil influences never enter to lead them astray.

Doors Thrown Open.

The pioneer and popular saloonist, John Richardson, will throw the doors of his new saloon, in the opera building, open to-night. All of John's personal and political friends will find a pleasant resort in these new and spacious quarters, which are light, airy and attractive.

DANIEL DANCER.

The Most Miserly of Men—What the Thirst for Gold May Lead a Man to.

Daniel Dancer's life is the most striking example perhaps in all history of the insatiable thirst for gold.

His father died and left him, together with a sister, a comfortable fortune. Dancer and his sister lived in a miserable hut near Harrow, in Middlesex, England. Their fare consisted of a piece of cheap beef and fourteen hard dumplings boiled on Sunday, and this lasted them the rest of the week.

The paltry dressed in rags, and when the sister was lying from cold and starvation her brother refused to summon medical aid on the ground that he could not spend his money for medicine, because if the "old girl" was going to die the doctors couldn't save her anyhow.

Dancer was too miserly to provide soap and towels for himself. He would wash in a neighboring pool and lie out in the sun till he was dried. His clothes, a mass of patches, were held up by a belt of hay, and his whole appearance was that of a wretched miser.

Dancer on his rambles never returned empty-handed. He would gather up the bones in the village streets and lanes, bring them home, and after picking them clean himself would crack them and feed them to his dog.

Once neighbors complained that his dog worried and killed their sheep, and for fear that he would have to pay for future depredations, he took the dog to a blacksmith's, where he had all the poor dog's teeth broken off to prevent a further recurrence of the trouble. He mended his own shoes and wore one hat continuously for thirteen years.

When he lay on his dying bed his only garment was an old sack. When remonstrated with he said that he came into the world without a shirt and he would go out of it that way.

When a visitor suggested that he have a pillow for his head he ordered his only servant, whose weekly wages were thirty cents, to bring him a wisp of hay, which he used as a pillow till his death, a few days later.

He left an estate valued at $25,000, amply sufficient for all his needs during his lifetime, had he so desired. This money, in odd sums, was hidden in old rags, nailed down to the under part of the manger floor in his miserable cow shed, and over $10,000 was found hidden in the manure pile, where it had lain for years.

SPEARING SUCKERS.

A Practice Not Commended by the Real Sportsman.

Spearfishing by torchlight is a sport much practiced on the western branch of the Pacific River for a distance of several miles. Every night the torches can be seen flashing along shore as far as the eye can reach, and the effect is peculiar and very pleasing.

The fish always lie close inshore at night, and as they are of a sluggish nature and can be quite easily seen by the aid of the torches some of the more skillful spearmen secure a large number in a short time.

One of the best stretches for the sport extends from Hawthorne, near where the first toll-gate on the Godwinville macadamized road formerly stood, to the Main street bridge. Some nights there will be an almost continuous line of torches throughout this entire distance, which is fully a mile.

Spearfishing is the tamest and most stupid manner of taking fish, still-fishing with angle worms ranking next, and is regarded by sportsmen as being about on a par with net-fishing for game; the highest form is casting for trout, bass or other game fish—Paterson Guardian.

"TOM PINCH" IN NEW YORK.

A Useful and Exemplary Philanthropist—Example of His Noble Work.

In a long, narrow, rather dusky room, with a desk by the only window, and an odd assortment of trunks piled one above another, household utensils, and a couch suspiciously like a bed, lives a modern Tom Pinch, with a heart as warm as the sun, and a hand of ready sympathy reached out to the help of the unfortunate.

Perhaps no man in the city accomplishes more real charity than this unassuming, unknown little man in the rusty black suit and antiquated tie. He can understand how the very sound of the word "home" is distasteful to a proud-spirited woman, appreciates the shrinking of a cultured woman feels from the companionship of some of the inmates of the cosmopolitan charitable institutions, and sympathizes with the repugnance a refined woman feels for positions of drudgery for which she is physically unfitted and mentally superior.

His experience would furnish the plot for a hundred novels more pathetic than any ever written. An educated, refined, gifted young woman came to the city to seek her fortune, the typical female Benjamin Franklin. She obtained board in a cheap downtown hotel, and remained until her funds were exhausted, drifted into one of the "Homes," and finally came to this man with just 75 cents in her pocket.

A place was found for her in a western town, and there she educated herself in an eminent profession, established and built up a lucrative practice, and is an honored and esteemed citizen.—New York Sun.

CONTRASTS IN COURT.

The Long and the Short of the Matter.

There is a story about old Peter Fauchet, the New South Wales Supreme Court Judge, who lately retired. He was somewhat shortsighted, and one day a very diminutive barrister appeared before him to move something or other.

When the short man stood up alongside "Jumbo," a very tall barrister, who was sitting down, their heads were about on a level, and as soon as the small man began:

"If your Honor please, I—"

"You must stand up when I address the Court," interrupted old Peter facetiously. "I am standing up," said the small man, with dignity.

"Then tell the gentleman alongside you to sit down."—New Zealand Times.

Sadie's Special Thinking.

Sadie was lying on the bed and her aunt told her to come to her, but Sadie headed not.

"Come here, Sadie," repeated the aunt. The child paid no attention to the command.

"Will you get up from there and come to me!" exclaimed the lady, warningly. Sadie turned over slowly and lifted up her curly head.

"I ain't thinkin' about that," she said, "I'm thinkin' about shan't, and down she went again."—Washington Critic.
